

GATX Supplier Sustainability Data

Published September 2026

As part of our ongoing commitment to responsible sourcing, GATX Rail North America periodically surveys our significant suppliers to learn about their sustainability practices and performance. The survey is designed to assess supplier practices and performance across key topics aligned with GATX's Supplier Code of Conduct, including Health and Safety, Environmental Management, Quality, Human and Labor Rights, and Business Ethics and Integrity. In the most recent disclosure cycle, we received responses from more than 50% of the suppliers invited to participate. The data presented reflects responses received from participating suppliers and may not be representative of all significant suppliers due to the voluntary nature of participation and the use of self-reported information.

of participating suppliers reported having policies covering one or more key sustainability topics, including Health & Safety, Environmental Management, Business Ethics, Labor Conditions, Discrimination & Inclusion, and Information Security.

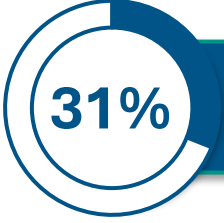

100%

of participating suppliers reported receiving no warnings, citations, or fines related to child labor, forced labor, or other labor rights violations.

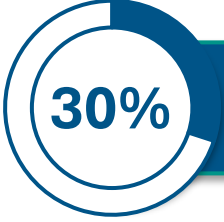

53%

of participating suppliers identify as small or mid-sized businesses.

31%

of participating suppliers reported maintaining one or more ISO certifications, including ISO 45001, ISO 14001, and/or ISO 9001.

30%

of participating suppliers have identified or implemented sustainability initiatives to improve environmental performance within their operations and supply chains.
